This report offers historical data and forecasts revenue growth at a global, regional, and country level, and provides analysis of the market trends in each segment from 2018 to 2028. For the purpose of this report, Emergen Research has segmented the global fiber optics market on the basis of components, fiber type, cable type, application, and reg. The global fiber optics market size reached USD 4.54 Billion in 2020 and is expected to register a revenue CAGR of 9.9% during the forecast period. Rising demand for Fiber to the x (FTTx), increasing demand for Internet of Things (IoT) and cloud services, and increasing deployment of fiber optics in smart city development are some of the key factor. Increased use of applications requires implementation of newer network designs, including FTTB and FTTH. Video technology consumes the most bandwidth. Super High Definition video, which is on the rise, requires four times more bandwidth than normal quality video does. Netflix and Amazon Prime require at least 20–25 Mb/s connection speed to deliver. High implementation cost of fiber optics and challenges related to splicing of fiber optic cables are some factors expected to hamper global fiber optics market revenue growth over the forecast period. For service providers, the expense of installing fiber connectivity is relatively high. As a result, most businesses prefer outdated infrastructure. Fiber Optics Components Insights:On the basis of components, the global fiber optics market is segmented into hardware, software, and services. Hardware segment is further sub-segmented as connectors, transmitters, amplifiers, receivers, and others.Fiber Optics Fiber Type Insights:On the basis of fiber type, the global fiber optics market is segmented into Plastic Optical F...
